

The 7th Kobayashi Foundation Award Guidelines for Applicants

	Part 1. Award for the Researchers	Part2. Award for the healthcare professionals or medical teams
Objective	The Kobayashi Foundation Award will be given to a researcher who created distinguished research and remarkable contributions and/or developments and achievements for oncology or cancer chemotherapy in his or her own country, other than Japan.	The Kobayashi Foundation Award will be given to one to three healthcare professionals or medical teams (e.g. medical doctors, nurses, pharmacists, medical educators, etc.) who made remarkable contributions and/or developments and achievements for cancer chemotherapy in his or her own country other than Japan. Age discrimination under 50 years old as of February 28, 2022.
How to Apply	Apply from the link on the website of Kobayashi Foundation for Cancer Research (Kobayashi Foundation, http://kficc.or.jp/english/introduction/ichiran_7.html) Fill out the form in English, with reasons for recommendation from your institutional leader. One application should be submitted from one institute.	Apply from the link on the website of Kobayashi Foundation for Cancer Research (Kobayashi Foundation, http://kficc.or.jp/english/introduction/ichiran_7.html) Fill out the form in English, with reasons for recommendation from your institutional leader. One application should be submitted from one institute.
Application Period	From January 11 to February 28, 2022
Selection Process	One award winner will be selected by members of the selection committee composed of oncology and cancer chemotherapy experts of Kobayashi Foundation.	Two award winners will be selected by members of the selection committee composed of oncology and cancer chemotherapy experts of Kobayashi Foundation.

Award and Prize	One or two researchers selected from all applicants who created distinguished research achievements in the field of oncology and cancer chemotherapy in applicant's country can obtain the award with the prize money of 500,000 Japanese yen.	The healthcare professionals or medical teams selected from all applicants who made remarkable social contributions in the field of cancer chemotherapy in his or her own country can obtain the award with the prize money of 500,000 Japanese yen each.
Result Announcement	The result will be announced on the websites of Kobayashi Foundation. Also, the result will be given to the applicants individually.
Award Ceremony	To Be Announced
Contact	Kobayashi Foundation for Cancer Research Email: info@kficc.or.jp	